MEDIA RELEASE

For Immediate Release March 1, 2021

LOCAL, NATIONAL & INTERNATIONAL LEADERS SHAPE THE 2021 ARCTIC DEVELOPMENT EXPO

Inuvik, Northwest Territories – The Town of Inuvik and the Arctic Development Expo organizers are pleased to announce that Sheila Watt-Cloutier is the Opening Keynote speaker for the 2021 Virtual Arctic Development Expo.

As an Environmental, Cultural and Human Rights Advocate, Watt-Cloutier speaks with passion and urgency on today's issues, including the environment, economy, foreign policy, global health, and sustainability.

Watt-Cloutier will provide the Opening Keynote: A Collective Voice for the Arctic on Tuesday 15 June from 10:30 to 11:00am MST.

Alongside Watt-Cloutier, the Arctic Development Expo welcomes over thirty-five representatives from across the Circumpolar North including the Canadian Territories, Alaska, Russia, and Europe.

The full session schedule and current list of speakers can be found online via the Arctic Development Expo website at www.arcticdevelopmentexpo.com.

More event information, updated speaker and exhibitor lists will be announced online via the Arctic Development Expo website and Social Media channels over the next couple of months.

The Town of Inuvik is a premier meeting and conference destination in Canada's North, with the ability to host small, medium, and large groups and events in a unique Arctic setting. By building on the previous success of the Inuvik Petroleum Show, the Arctic Energy and Emerging Technologies Conference and Tradeshow and now the Arctic Development Expo, our dedicated Staff and unique facilities are well positioned to host your next event.
